

SUSTAINABILITY STARTS WITH STRATEGY.

Strategic thinking, planning, and implementation are the core responsibilities of a governing board. An effective strategic process considers the current state of an institution or foundation. It reveals areas that need to change. It sets the course for transformation. And it is a board's most powerful tool for achieving financial sustainability.

Customized support for boards and leaders.

AGB helps institution and foundation boards improve their leadership and practices for strategic thinking, planning, and implementation. Our experts work with boards to:

- Define strategic outcomes as priorities and actionable goals
- Pursue strategic outcomes through planning and transformation
- Realize strategic outcomes by achieving financial sustainability

They'll help your board design an inclusive process for determining goals, initiatives, programs, and actions. They'll guide you as you navigate change. They'll support you every step of the way toward renewed growth, new revenues, lower costs, and stable finances.

AGB enables boards to choose how they approach strategy and transformation.

This is NOT a one-size-fits-all service or curriculum. We match you with experts who have experience that is relevant to your situation.

They will customize your engagement specifically for your board, type of institution, size, challenges, and educational focus.
